

Erratum Sheet for Twelve Sweaters One Way:
Knitting Saddle Style

Pages 6-7: The paragraph headed "Construction and Finishing" repeats itself. Not an error that will affect your knitting , just a distraction.

Page 83:

The directions for the back give measurements from the cast on edge, so the front should follow suit. The front direx (5th line of front text) should read ". . .until front measures 14" from cast on edge". Further down it should read ". . .shaping the armhole as for the back when the piece measures 15" from the cast on edge." As they read now, the front direx are actually measuring from the top of the rib, which is not consistent. The schematic will clarify this further.
